Beloveds of All Saints,

This coming week we will celebrate the birth of a nation even as we struggle with who and what we are as a nation. In worship we will celebrate the welcome of God in Word and song—welcome that is woven into who we are and what we are called to do and be as followers of Jesus. We will sing of welcome in this place—“where all are named, their songs and visions heard and loved and treasured, taught and claimed as words within the Word” in our hymn of the day. And in our sending hymn, we’ll sing praise to God of all the nations—“a song of peace for lands afar and mine....the country where my heart is.”

For many in the United States, the Statue of Liberty has historically and figuratively stood as a beacon of welcome and symbol of our collective heart. Soldiers and travelers crossing the Atlantic knew they had returned home when they could see Lady Liberty, and immigrants longing to know welcome, dreamed of new life and opportunities symbolized by the one standing at the entrance of New York Harbor. In the poem by Emma Lazarus, “The New Colossus,” the first stanza lifts up the statue as “Mother of Exiles” whose lighted torch proclaims worldwide welcome (The Oxford Book of American Poetry, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2006, p. 151). How might we hear the texts this Sunday and be challenged to offer hospitality to those in search of welcome and new life?

May you know the welcoming presence, liberating power and gracious freedom of God,
Bill+

The Collect of the Day

Almighty God, you have built your Church upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone: Grant us so to be joined together in unity of spirit by their teaching, that we may be made a holy temple acceptable to you; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Flower Dedication

From The Music Corner...

I'm on vacation for a couple of weeks, and this familiar poem by Mary Oliver struck me as a wonderful inclusion to our Enews this week as we say goodbye to June, and welcome the high, holy days of summer in New England.

May our Lord bless you deeply as, amidst the vacationing swirl, you find anew the ways that relax, renew and reconnect you to the One who made the world.....

Holly

“The Summer Day”

Who made the world?

Who made the swan, and the black bear?

Who made the grasshopper?

This grasshopper, I mean —

the one who has flung herself out of the grass,

the one who is eating sugar out of my hand,

who is moving her jaws back and forth instead of up and down — who is gazing around with her enormous and complicated eyes.

Now she lifts her pale forearms and thoroughly washes her face.

Now she snaps her wings open, and floats away.

I don't know exactly what a prayer is.

I do know how to pay attention, how to fall down into the grass, how to kneel down in the grass,

how to be idle and blessed, how to stroll through the fields, which is what I have been doing all day.

Tell me, what else should I have done?

Doesn't everything die at last, and too soon?

Tell me, what is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?

+ Mary Oliver

Independence and Civil Discourse

There used to be a wise saying about arguments that helped keep things civil. One party or the other would say, "I disagree with what you say, but I defend with my life your right to say it."

That sounds downright quaint in today's climate, where partisans are more likely to say, "I disagree with what you say, and you are evil and have no right to that opinion!"

This month, as we celebrate Independence Day, we can relish the freedoms we take for granted, including freedom of speech, religion, and assembly. At the same time, as Christians we remember Jesus' commands not only to love our neighbors as ourselves (Mark 12:31) but also to do unto others as we would have them do to us (Matthew 7:12). The "neighbors" and "others" certainly include those who hold different ideas on issues of the day.

How can we celebrate our freedom of expression in the context of Jesus' commands?

- Listen carefully, being open to another person's ideas.
- Respond thoughtfully and calmly, citing facts to support your argument.
- Do not attack the person, only the ideas.
- If things get too heated, discontinue the discussion.
- Remember the wise old saying, "I disagree with what you say, but I defend with my life your right to say it."

We are stewards of our relationships with our neighbors. As followers of Jesus, we can be stewards of civility and lead our country to calmer, more amicable times.

New to All Saints... Get Connected and Grow Deeper

The people God has gathered as All Saints' are grateful for all the newcomers in our midst! We hope you have found us welcoming and hospitable. We are grateful for your presence, gifts, energy, and ideas.

Whether you've started, or you've been attending for a little while, or for years, you're welcome to formally join All Saints. A new member class with Pastor Bill is scheduled for two Sundays, July 30th and August 6th from 9:00 to 9:45 am in the Beck Memorial Library. We will get to know each other, learn about All Saints' mission and ministry, how we follow the Way of Jesus, and answer any questions about the Episcopal Church. The following Sunday, August 13, we will have a liturgy of welcome to formally welcome new members to our faith community. Please contact the Church Office to register for the class and check with our Parish Administrator Debra Hoyt to have your information on file at (603) 569-3454 or allsaints@metrocast.net.

VESTRY NOTES

The Vestry met on Monday, June 9th. Here's a quick summary of our meeting. Please ask questions of any member if you'd like more information.

Celebrate: -- Sunday School completed a successful year under the guidance of Danielle Pierpont. Thanks to Kay, Arlene, Mary, and Carolyn who were her helpers and to the children who attended faithfully.

Challenge – The elevator has been presenting some noisy rides and interesting experiences. We hope it will be fixed in the next few weeks.

Something to Anticipate – On Sunday, August 20, we will have one service at 9:00am followed by a brunch at 10:00am. We'd like to update you on progress our parish has made this year on our finances and some of the other great ideas from the January brainstorming brunch.
