Beloved Siblings in Christ,

Human beings are relational, created to be in relationship with one another and with God. No one, no matter how independent or disconnected they may feel they are, can navigate life outside the context of relationships. From the moment we are born we are thrust into relationship with people around us—the people who delivered us, the people who took care of us in the hospital, our family, and God. When we enter this world, we form relationships from day one.

We navigating turbulent times in life through healthy relationships which require a lot of work and care. In particular, relationships require trust to grow and mature. Relationships rooted in trust can bring out the best in us, and those rooted in anything else, can bring out the worst. Sunday's readings offer the opportunity to consider the trust required in the relationship between God and God's people. We too often replace trusting

GATHERING The Holy Spirit calls us together as the people of God
Welcome to All Saints' Wolfeboro, we are glad you have joined us in person or online!
Worship lies at the heart of our lives following Jesus and the Way of Love. When we gather in worship we express and pray what we believe, encountering God in and through the means of grace—the saving Word of God and the sacraments. From the table of communion where Jesus comes with forgiveness, life, and salvation, God sends us out to share the good news and to care for those in need.

The Collect of the Day

O God, whose blessed Son came into the world that he might destroy the works of the devil and make us children of God and heirs of eternal life: Grant that, having this hope, we may purify ourselves as he is pure; that, when he comes again with power and great glory, we may be made like him in his eternal and

God with trusting in our identity, privilege or work, or look to others to sustain us rather than God, who promises eternal life through Jesus.

As part of my continuing education, I'll be away Sunday through Wednesday (I will zoom into Tuesday's Wolfeboro Reads) to add some more relational and trust tools to my pastoral toolbox. I'm attending a conference: "Navigating Turbulent Times with Emotional Intelligence" with the Rev. Dr. Cindy Halvorsen, from LeaderWise, a consulting and coaching organization, whose mission is to foster spirit-filled leaders for lives of service.

Trusting in and with God in turbulent times,

Describe All Saints' Many Members One Body in one word...

On All Saints' Sunday, Pastor Bill asked us to share a word that describes us as many members, one body. We wrote them on the blank puzzle pieces that were in the worship bulletin and put them in the plate as part of our offering. The image above was created from those words with the larger sized words representing the number of shared responses. We are many members one body first and foremost in love!

glorious kingdom; where he lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

From The Music and Tech Corner...

As we once again pay special homage to all veterans who have served us sacrificially and well in the needs of our nation, I remember words from Scripture:

"Greater love has no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend". It seems the sacrifice of our lives for others, on many levels, is a high value for the Christ Who gave His all for us.

This song reminds us that loving God and serving our neighbor is the truth that will matter, and stand the test of time "When it's all been said and done" (by Robin Mark).

In these days of colder winds, and darker days, may your moments of reflection keep you turning to the One Who holds us in every circumstance and season,

VESTRY NOTES

The Vestry met on Monday, October 16th. Here's a quick summary of our meeting. Please ask questions of any member if you'd like more information.

Celebrate: ECW creates opportunities to increase our fellowship activities, and this Friday, October 20, is no different! Enjoy a Harvest Supper beginning at 5:30 in the Parish Hall. Ham and beans are on the menu with many other goodies. Thanks to this group of volunteers who work hard with talent and good humor!

Challenge – Have you turned in your piece of the puzzle as your part of All Saints? The formal ingathering will be November 19th, but a picture is forming on the bulletin board with pieces of the puzzle already submitted. We are Many Members, One Body!

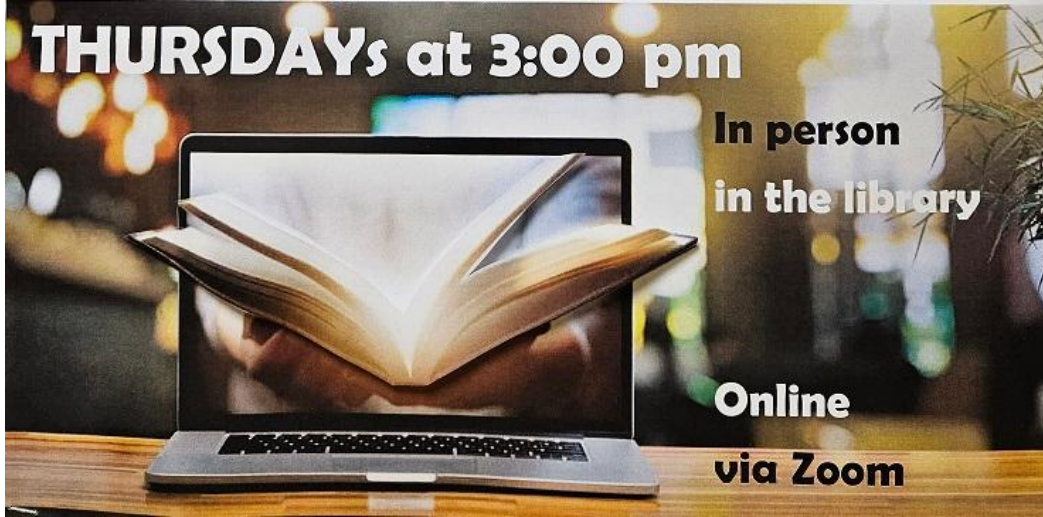

Something to Anticipate – On October 29th, the service of Morning Prayer will be led by Cate McMahan at both services. Those who remember the prayer book before 1979 may enjoy hearing familiar prayers, and those not as familiar may anticipate a new experience.

First impressions stick with us. Paul's first impression of the Thessalonian Christians was an especially powerful one: The gospel message he preached grasped their hearts and minds, and transformed their lives. That memory moves Paul to write to the young church that's bubbling with a sense of the power of the living God. Beginning in October, we will walk through the letters to the early church in Thessolonika as we seek to open our lives to that God who leaves a lasting impression also on us. Join us as we reflect deeply on God's Word and seek to discover how you can participate more fully in God's kin-dom.

Please join us for our community book group as we gather via Zoom on Tuesdays 4:00-5:15 pm for reflection and discussion. The Wolfeboro Public Library and Country Bookseller have our lists.
